Everything In Readiness For "Biggest Fourth Of July"

GREATEST RUSH OF IMMIGRATION EVER SEEN BEGINS TODAY

Harrisburg, July 2.—The lid of the melting pot, which the new world has been lifted today to the greatest rush of immigration since the new restriction went into effect two years ago.

Over found the staff officers who had observed throughout Sunday once more at work passing the first of the 2,500 immigrants who are expected to gain admission to the United States today.

Two thousand seventy-four, first of the human cargoes dumped here by a down train—thirty hours the moment the new immigration law began, were admitted Sunday. The rush of immigrants seeking homes here, huddled for the most part, according to their stories, by high wages such as $12.50 per day paid to bricklayers, to be admitted Tuesday afternoon was the largest that any single admission had one time in the past.

CHICAGO OFFICIAL DECLARES WAR ON 'THE BUCKET SHOPS'

Chicago, July 2.—State's Attorney Robert Crowe today announced an attempt to send officials of 50 Chicago bucket shop brokerage houses to the penitentiary. Crowe announced that his assistant, George Gorman, will lay a charge before the grand jury, starting today to show they have defrauded the public out of more than $200,000 annually.

May Enforcement Head Takes Over Reigns In Pennsylvania Today

Philadelphia, July 2.—R. V. Sams, division and prohibition enforcement chief today took over the work of "drying up" Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey, succeeding P. M. Sullivan, who has been transferred to Florida. Enforcement of the prohibition laws by educational methods rather than coercion will be the policy of his regime, Sams said.

HARD COAL PARLEY BEGINS JULY 6 AT ATLANTIC CITY

Atlantic City, Pa., July 2.—Official announcement was made here today by William Brown, president of District No. 1 United Mine Workers, that the coal wage parley between the mine owners and operators will start July 6 at Atlantic City. The first session will start at the Hotel Atlantic at two o'clock Friday afternoon.

Livingstone, July 2.—Members of President Harding's party fought a snow battle on Mt. Washington in Yellowstone National Park Sunday afternoon when the temperature in the valley below remained at summer heat.

When the party ran through the snow trail filled with new drifts, the temptation was too strong and in a minute the new trails were flying thick and fast.

PINOCHOT SIGNS APPROPRIATION BILL; HE CUTS IT

Harrisburg, July 2.—Governor Pinchot continued the cutting down process on appropriation bills, demonstrated in the general appropriation bill Saturday when he reduced the $50,000 appropriation to the Department of Agriculture to fight the Japanese beetle in this state to $30,000.

The Governor explained the cut in a statement that the federal government would provide some of the money lost in the reduction of the state appropriation to fight this pest. The beetle, according to the State Department of Agriculture, is beginning to make inroads on the state's crops and unless federal funds are available, it was said it will have infested the greater part of the state before it can be exterminated.

Harrisburg, July 2.—The General Appropriation Bill, carrying the ordinary running expenses of the state government for the biennial period, June 1, 1923, to June 1, 1925, was approved tonight by Governor Pinchot in the sum of $30,865,254.12. The Legislature passed the bill with items aggregating $32,845,354.12, and the total of the cuts made by the Governor amounted to $2,150,400.

The budget presented to the General Assembly as a guide in making its appropriations, carried for general purposes $80,157,115 or $800,000 less than the items of the bill as approved. But, as Governor Pinchot pointed out just after he had affixed his signature to the bill, he cut incomparable items more than $1,000,000 net below the budget figures.

There were two items that enter into this reduction. In the first place the bill carries $17,800,000 more for schools than the $21,000,000 allowed by the budget, but on the other hand items for $16,850,000 for hospitals and charities were eliminated from the measure, these institutions being cared for in separate bills when the lump-sum plan was abandoned. This decrease left more than a million dollars that had to be made up in reductions in appropriations to debts, and these cuts, with the difference between the budget and the bill figures, makes up the total amount of the cuts.

Cut on Hospitals Coming.

So far the Governor has approved other appropriation bills for $18,343,453.85, including the Delaware River bridge appropriation, so that with the bill approved today he has appropriated $99,145,907.77. The hospital bills, 300 or so in number, are yet to be acted upon, and the Governor tonight intimated that he will keep the figures as near the budget estimate as possible. He said that of the $2,500,000 cut below the budget that is necessary because of the increase in school appropriations and other increases in the cost of government, he has cut in the general bill approximately $1,000,000.

The largest item in the bill is $38,803,246 for the school districts. This appropriation alone is larger than the total of any general appropriation bill ever signed by a Pennsylvania Governor, except the bills approved in 1919 and 1921 by Governor Sprout, Woodward and Snyder Sliced.

The Governor made decisive cuts into the appropriations for the Department of Internal Affairs and the State Treasury, cutting the appropriations for Secretary of Internal Affairs $225,000, and those for State Treasurer Snyder $128,800.

In speaking of the Internal Affairs Department, the Governor said that on April 8 he had told the Legislature that "there is no longer a need or place for a single Department of Internal Affairs." He then added that the overhead cost of the department "is wholly unnecessary and it should be abolished," as it "represents a needless waste." He allowed the department $395,000, instead of the $478,100 the bill carried. The Governor said he allowed the department what the budget allowed the amount (Continued On Page Four.)

Freedom—and Home

Mrs. Mary Lonergan, of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent the first day of her freedom, after being acquitted of the murder of her husband, with some of her 14 children and the rest of the family. She called it her first day of rest since she was married 30 years ago.

ATTEMPTS TO PASS BETWEEN TWO CARS APPROACHING EACH OTHER; HITS BOTH BUT HE KEEPS ON GOING

One of those imbeciles who make driving a car a nightmare for careful drivers, shot across Second street bridge about 9 o'clock last evening. At this time Fred Forsyth, of Kellytown, was driving across the bridge and near this end of the bridge a Ford coupe approached. Each car occupied its own side of the roadway and would have passed without incident but when they were about 25 feet apart one of the birds we have in mind in our opening sentence shot up behind the Forsyth car and made for the narrowing opening. He managed to get by the skin of his teeth, although he banged against the Ford and then came off against Forsyth's Franklin.

The fenders of both cars were bent and twisted but the damphool got away down Bridge street before they could catch his number.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO RALPH WHITEMAN, WORLD WAR HERO

The funeral of the late Sergeant Ralph A. Whiteman took place this morning at 10 o'clock from St. Francis church, 1414 North Second street, celebrated by the pastor, Rev. M. A. Ryan.

John Shade Post of the American Legion had charge of the funeral and a large concourse of people turned out to pay their last tribute of respect to one of Clearfield's very finest young men, who gave his all in defense of his country. Interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

The pall bearers were: J. Mitchell Chase, Edward T. Kelley, John H. Fulford, James Lytle, William T. Hagerty, Raymond J. Considine.

Miss Augusta Read returned last evening from Pittsburgh, where she has been spending some time visiting relatives and friends.

ALTHOUGH HANDCUFFED AND IN IRONS, "BAD MAN" ED RUST KILLS HIS CAPTOR AND ESCAPES FROM PASSENGER TRAIN

Fargo, N. D., July 2.—Snatching a gun from the belt of Sheriff Fulkner, Ed Rust, a "bad man," shot the officer to death and leaped through the window of a train on which he was being taken to prison. The shooting occurred near Wolverton, Montana, late last night, and was reported here today. The desperado, known also as Roy James, is still at large.

With his hands manacled and his legs encased in irons he signaled to Sheriff Fulkner on a seat opposite that he wanted to whisper to him. As

NEW GASOLINE TAX IS NOW IN EFFECT; COSTS A CENT MORE

Harrisburg, July 2.—The State tax on gasoline will be increased today from one cent to two cents a gallon, the Her-Ison Liquid Fuels Tax Act becoming effective. The law, which is expected to add upward of $5,000,000 to the commonwealth's revenues in the present biennium, was passed with the Armstrong emergency net profits tax measure by the last Legislature as a means to realize the needed $20,000,000 additional revenue.

The one-cent tax law has been in effect two years, and the additional cent is provided as an emergency impost for the next two years. As in the past, the counties in which the tax is collected will continue to get one half a cent on each gallon of gasoline sold, but the State will now receive one and one-half cents on each gallon.

Dealers must be registered with the Auditor General, and the new act provides that no dealer shall, after the effective date of the law, sell any liquid fuels until he has filed a certificate of registration. Failure to comply with that provision of the act is a misdemeanor and subjects the dealer to a fine of $1000.

Auditor General Lewis has sent out thousands of the blank forms of the certificates, but so far many dealers have not filled them in and returned them. The forms are printed on a questionnaire relating to the dealer's name, address and when sales were commenced.

Robert P. Armstrong has gone to Williamsport to spend the week with friends in that city.

CAMPAIGN FOR THIS COUNTY'S SHARE OF "DRY" FUND BEGINS

Clearfield county will no doubt assume its full share of the duty of raising funds to make it possible for Governor Pinchot to enforce the state dry law. It will be recalled that the legislature passed an enforcement act but refused to give the governor any money to pay the expenses of enforcement.

Friends of the dry laws expect to raise a fund of a quarter of a million dollars to be used by the state under the direction of the governor for special officers, getting of evidence, etc., as was the intent of the dry law. The W. C. T. U. are fostering the drive and it was started in the Clearfield County churches yesterday with the reading of a proclamation by the W. C. T. U. and favorable comment by the several pastors.

The following proclamation was read:

"The Keystone state of the Nation the home of the liberty bell and the birthplace of the Constitution, we hereby proclaim that the traditions of loyalty to the National Constitution upheld by patriots of our state on the fields of Valley Forge and Gettysburg shall be maintained by our loyal citizens and to this end we call to active cooperation all temperance, prohibition, religious and philanthropic bodies, all patriotic, fraternal, civil associations and all Pennsylvanians who love their state to make good the $250,000 for Law Enforcement, refused to our Governor by our State Legislature.

ELLA M. GEORGE, President.
AMANDA LANDES, V-Pres.
ELLA BROOMELL, Cor. Secy.
CECELIA MICHELFELDER, Rec-Secy.

LEAH COBB MARION, Treas.

This proclamation has been broadcast over the state during the week and the campaign is on in earnest. The money will be subscribed and every lover of the temperance cause should have a part in the work. Do not wait to be solicited. Local contributions are directed to be paid to the County National Bank to the "250,000 Enforcement Fund."

A GALLON JUG OF MOONSHINE ONLY WRECK CASUALTY

Several minor automobile wrecks were reported from different sections immediately adjoining Clearfield Sunday. In the morning an automobile and a motorcycle disputed the right of way on the hill on the state road just above the cut-off into Wallace. The motorcycle came out second best but there were no serious injuries sustained by anybody.

About 8:30 last evening three young men were traveling toward Curwensville in a Ford coupe. Regardless of the known fact that moonshine "biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder," it was said the occupants of the coupe had been storing some away. At any rate and however, when the crossing at the coal mine this side of the New York Central bridge over the river, the car was shooting along too rapidly to take the curve and the driver wheeled her right up the railroad track possibly fifty feet or until the car piled over the embankment onto the concrete road below. It was a darned shame, too, because the Henry was a sorry looking bit of tin when she landed, but what is worse, or was believed more by the occupants of the car, who all escaped injury, a perfectly good gallon jug, said to have been full of moonshine, was smashed to smithereens, while its contents oozed about over the concrete road.

SEVEN BANDS WILL ENLIVEN BIG PARADE IN WHICH THERE WILL BE OVER FIFTY BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED AUTOMOBILES

Forms on streets south of Cherry street. Moves south on Second street to Market street, West on Market street to Front street, North on Front street to Pine, East on Pine to Second, North on Second to Reed, East on Reed to Third, South on Third to Market, East on Market to Fourth, South on Fourth to Cherry, West on Cherry to Third, North on Third to Market, West on Market to Second, North on Second to the Park.

LOCAL YOUNG MEN 'SQUEAL' ON BOOZE PEDDLER OF BOGGS

County Detective Snyder and State Trooper Pierce attended the carnival at Curwensville Saturday night and while looking things over discovered four or five Clearfield lads "drinking from the same canteen."

Descent was made upon the bibulous ones and the whole gang corralled and haled before Squire John A. Dale, who salted each fellow with a $5.00 fine for disorderly conduct.

The local lads to escape a more serious charge told the officers where they had purchased their moonshine and a certain Boggs township bootlegger will find things happening to him about tonight.

A couple of Curwensville men were also arrested at the carnival, and they, too may have to answer a liquor peddling charge.

Hand Is Lacerated Badly When Caught In Washing Machine

Little Miss Jean Shirey, daughter of Roy Shirey of Bradford township, had her hand very severely hurt early today while assisting with the family washing. The little girl, who is only eleven years of age, was helping the housekeeper with the weekly washing when in some manner her fingers caught in the cogs of the electrically driven wringer and before it could be stopped the bones of one finger had been stripped of the flesh and the entire hand was badly crushed. It was impossible to get a doctor at once for the emergency and she was finally put into a car and driven to the Clearfield hospital where her injuries are receiving attention.

Pennsylvania Will Investigate Books Being Used In Schools

Harrisburg, July 2.—Investigation of history text books used in the public schools to learn if any of them contain "improper material" was authorized by Governor Pinchot today. Governor Pinchot signed the White House resolution today calling upon the Department of Publication to make the investigation and list any which, in its judgment, should be banned. The report is to be presented to the next session of the Assembly, making recommendations if legislation is deemed necessary.

The Rev. William L. Armstrong left today for Dickinson College at Carlisle, where he will sit as a member of the Conference Board of Examiners.

Fireworks Display in the Evening to Be Made a Big Feature; Horse Racing of High Class.

4TH TO AMUSE ALL

Everything is set and in readiness for Clearfield's biggest Fourth of July, which John Shade Post of the American Legion has arranged to stage on Wednesday next. The different committees in charge of the multitude of details incident to a celebration the size of this one have been working like beavers for the past three months and have left nothing undone which is necessary for making this a national holiday long to be remembered and the person who fails to be in Clearfield on the Fourth will really miss something he long will regret not having witnessed.

There will be something to please everybody from the time the program opens with the parade in the morning until the last bonfire of the fireworks announces that one more anniversary of this great nation's independence has passed into history.

Parade To Be Biggest Ever.

Surface indications point to the finest parade ever staged in Clearfield. It will consist of three sections and will line up as follows:—

- First Division.
Marshals and colors.
Curwensville Legion Band.
World War Veterans.
Spanish American War Veterans.
G. A. R. in Automobiles.
 - Second Division.
Clearfield Fire Department.
Clearfield Italian Band.
Italian Societies.
Independent Order Red Men.
Loyal Order of Moose.
 - Third Division.
Civic Organizations and Floats.
Business and Industrial Floats.
- The reviewing stand will be located in front of the Court House and all "Gold Star" mothers are invited to take seats in the stand with the reviewing officers.
- Following the third division the parade will be made up of over 500 handsome floats, intermingled with the following bands: Curwensville, Grampian, Woodland, Wallace, Dobyn's colored band and Clearfield American Legion Band.
- Real Horse Racing.
- Some real horse racing is assured (Continued On Page Two.)

EVERYTHING IN READINESS

Legion patrons on the Fourth as the $1.50 purses has attracted more than two hours of the best harness racing in the section of Western Pennsylvania to Clearfield. There is a great deal of feeling between the owners and drivers of several of these horses and there will be a real "drive to win" in each event. The racing card is as follows:

2:15 Pace or Trot.

Teeny Night, Mike Meyer.
Peter Gehagan, James Mahaffey.
Clay Todd, Squire Kennedy.
George Summers, Charles Gill.
Queen Colette, James Mahaffey.

2:35 Pace.

Dr. Directly, Ed Galaher.
Minnie W. Ed. Galaher.
Direct Rose, Ben Bloom.

Patterson's Favorite, Patterson.
Miss Caber, W. Wright.
Lansing, Heberling.
Mary Burger, A. Bundy.

2:54 Trot.

Jepto, T. Patterson.
Ben Ed, T. Patterson.
Mona Verona, Mahaffey.
Harvest Queen, Mahaffey.
Harvest Julia, Mahaffey.
Union, Giles.
Lillian Asaff, Patterson.

Big Carnival All Week.

The Geo. L. Dobyn Shows, one of the largest carnivals on the road, has been secured for the entire week and will open at the Park this evening. The carnival came here from Turtle Creek, near Pittsburgh, and was late in arriving. A big crowd patiently awaited at the Pennsy station until the show train arrived, but they waited to see just what it meant to see a show of this size unload and move its 40 wagons over the streets to the Driving Park, which was done with as much ease as if it were a moving van changing a store's fixtures from one address to another. There was the clanging of chains and horses' hoofs on the streets and the big wagons looked like freight cars, but everything went along with ease until a voice called out in a commanding way: "Where is Mr. Wayne Fluck? He is on the committee to see that I have a nice place to rest." This voice was no one other than Princess Conetta, the smallest lady of today. Hearing this, Minnie Ha Ha said, "Now, where is he?" and the outcome was that Mrs. Wayne Fluck said Wayne could take the Princess and show her where she had rooms engaged but her brother would have to escort Minnie Ha Ha, as he would be more than pleased to do. He was more than surprised to see just who Minnie was. He had pictured her as a very fine looking chorus girl. Then came Mitchell Chase in for his bit of fun and volunteered to escort Minnie to her quarters.

Every one was busy. Mr. Stephen met each and every one, telling them where they were to reside for the week. Every hotel was filled to its capacity and private homes were opened to the show folks. Everyone seemed to be a part of the show, even to Mrs. Wayne Fluck, who has postponed a bridge party for tonight to entertain some of them.

Aviator De Lane!
Lieut. Wm. H. Emery, Jr., assisted by Burton Jones, the youngest and most daring parachute jumper and wing walking performer in the world, will entertain you on the Fourth of July at the American Legion celebration.

Lieut. Emery, a former army flyer and instructor, is one of the best and most daring exhibition flyers in the world. He will have a new aeroplane for this occasion, one built especially for exhibition flying and carrying of passengers. Lieut. Emery will perform fancy stunts while Dare Devil Jones performs on the wing of the airplane, which will be traveling at the rate of 100 miles per hour. Dare Devil Jones will make a parachute flying jump from the plane while flying a thousand feet above the park and land in the oval at the race track. This daring feat has never been attempted, except by young Dare Devil Burton Jones.

Lieut. Emery arrived this morning and will take up passengers until after the Fourth. Now is your chance to view Clearfield and surrounding towns from the air. Flying field at the Driving Park.

Spanish War Veterans will please call at the Legion headquarters in the County National Bank building between the hours of nine and ten a. m. to receive badges and admission tickets. They will form in front of the High School at 10 a. m. for the parade. After the parade these veterans will be guests of the Legion at the Driving Park, where a lunch will be provided.

All Civil War veterans who do not come in on morning trains will meet at the Court House corner near the reviewing stand, where the old soldiers' committee will receive them. This committee will meet all incoming trains with cars and will also call for all Civil War soldiers residing in Clearfield for whom it has names and addresses. These men of '64 will ride in cars in the parade and will be guests of the Legion for the noon lunch at the Park. They will also be entertained by the committee during the afternoon.

World war veterans will report at the Legion headquarters. They will form for parade at 10 o'clock on Front street near Witmer Park. Everybody out in uniform.

Antient Manuscript.
The oldest manuscript written on cotton paper in England is in the British museum and bears the date of 1049. The most ancient manuscript on the same material in the Library of Paris is dated 1050. In 1635 A. D. the Christian successors of the Spaniards discovered a manuscript in the island of raw cotton, which is recognized by its yellowness and brittleness.

Freak Lightning Strikes.
There is an instance on record of a couple of men who were traveling in the Voages mountains. They rushed for trees to escape the pelting, driving rain. A stroke of lightning knocked them senseless, and it was thought on first examination that they were dead. The best attention and care were given them, and they survived, but on the back of each, extending to the thighs, was the imprint of leaves of a lime tree.

An Apprehension.
"Do you think we will have government ownership of railroads?"
"I hope not. I'd like to be able to speak my mind when a train is late without being accused of disrespect to the administration."

How to build up your Weight

To be under weight often proves a low fighting power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S.S.S. has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S.S.S. will build them.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

"SKIRTS AS BRIEF AS WIDOWS' GRIEF"

Hem of Viola Dana's Dress Is Full Three Inches Above Her Knees

Viola Dana has gone daring French society leaders one better, by wearing a skirt exactly three inches above the knee—to quote James J. Montague, Viola's "skirts are as brief as a widow's grief."

"Before you raise your eyebrows in horror, let it be explained that Viola's penchant for brevity is born of her becoming a child of thirteen for one episode of her new picture, Irvin S. Cobb's "The Five Dollar Baby," now at the Driggs Theatre. With the little pigtail hat were one of her outstanding characteristics, and a gingham dress that was a part of her childish wardrobe. Viola again is living over the days of her Brooklyn childhood.

An evidence of the slight change that the years have made in the little star's physical make-up may be found in the fact that the same gingham apron which she wore in her initial stage appearances—in "The Poor Little Rich Girl"—is being worn in this Harry Beaumont production. Other garments that are associated with her girlish successes of the speaking stage also are being used in the picture.

The Cobb story has been prepared for the screen by Rex Taylor, of Metro's scenario department. John Arnold did the photography. A. F. Mantz was art and technical director.

Trinitrotoluene
"T. N. T." is an abbreviation for trinitro-toluene, a very powerful explosive used in shells, mines, hand grenades and torpedoes. It is formed from toluene by treatment of this hydrocarbon with strong nitric acid in the presence of concentrated sulphuric acid. Toluene is one of the products of the distillation of coal tar. T. N. T. crystallizes in almost white needles, and at ordinary temperatures it is quite stable. It burns with a smoky flame when ignited. In its chemical composition the molecule of trinitrotoluene consists of seven carbon atoms, five hydrogen atoms, three nitrogen atoms and six oxygen atoms.

MENIHAN'S ARCH-AID SHOES

The strongest appeal is always—Beauty

Dress is an adornment as well as a protection—and he is bold indeed who shall say that it is wrong for a woman to desire trim, stylish footwear. Unfortunately, the most beautiful feature of the foot, its arch, is frequently the weakest.

If temporary discomfort were the only result of incorrect footwear few women would choose relief at the expense of style. But the weak or fallen arch is a "progressive" failing. . . . It does not cure itself without assistance. Menihan's Arch-Aid Shoes are beautiful shoes—stylish in line, correct in finish. They support the foot on scientific principles, emphasizing and maintaining the slim, graceful contour of the arches.

Wear them now and you will not suffer the mortification of adopting "homely" footwear to secure relief. We can fit you in this smart, white linen oxford and in many other styles.

SHERIFF'S NOTICE OF SERVICE OF RULE OF EJECTMENT
In the Court of Common Pleas of Clearfield County, Pa.
No. 105 Sept. Term, 1923.

In the matter of the Petition of Helen Umerly for a rule on Morris Shannahan and William Shannahan their heirs or assigns or other parties in interest, to bring ejectment within six months.

Order and Decree.
And now June 2nd, 1923, the foregoing and foregoing been read and considered and pronounced in Open Court and after investigations of the same having been taken the on and due proof of the allegations set forth in the petition having been made to the satisfaction of the Court, a rule is granted upon the said Morris Shan-nahan and William Shannahan, their heirs or assigns, and all other parties in interest therein and having an apparent interest in or the title of the real estate mentioned in the said petition, but not having been in possession thereof for a period of twenty-one years preceding the date of this application to bring his, her or their action in ejectment within six months from the date of the service of the said rule upon him, he or them or show cause why the same cannot be brought. It is further ordered and decreed that service of said rule be made upon the parties claiming or having apparent interest in or title to the said real estate by the Sheriff of Clearfield County in the Raftsmans Journal and the Clearfield Progress, two newspapers of general circulation printed and published in the County of Clearfield, once a week for six consecutive weeks in accordance with the act of Assembly in such case made and provided. Said rule to be returnable the first Monday of August, 1923.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. G.

Lynchings in the United States in the first six months of 1923 dropped to eleven, compared with 33 for the same period in 1922, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announces. The decrease was attributed to agitation for a federal anti-lynching law and to the northward migration of negroes.

Senator Couzens, the Detroit millionaire, who coined his money out of fortunate investment with Henry Ford before his flounder became famous, and who was appointed by the governor of the state to represent Michigan in the Senate, appoints himself to lead the wet forces in the next Congress in their look-for assault on the Volstead Act. In a statement at Detroit Thursday "Millionaire"
Jim offers encouragement to the wets
in the following "guesses":

"The next session of Congress
probably will see the Volstead act amended to permit the sale of beer
containing not more than five per cent
alcohol," was the prophecy made by Senator Couzens upon his return
from a short tour in Canada.

Senator Couzens characterized the prohibition law "as federal authorities are now attempting to enforce
it," as "ridiculous and impossible of enforcement."

Five per cent beer is not intoxicating and "no sane person would maintain that it is," Senator Couzens is quoted as saying.

"The present enforcement act was put over" on the country when the people were in the midst of a world war," Senator Couzens said. "The country does not want prohibition
now. To ask a man to drink a beverage containing one-half of one per cent is ridiculous. We want a liberal interpretation of the phrase "intoxicating liquors" which is mentioned in the eighteenth amendment. The amendment says nothing about one-

half of one per cent."

Senator Couzens added that he would "never tolerate a return of the old time saloon, and will never stand
for the sale of whisky or hard liquors,
even under government supervision."

"We can get along without whisky," he said, "and I personally would like to see the manufacture and sale
of it so effectively stopped that it would not be possible to obtain it even
for medicinal purposes."

Instead of subjecting bad boys who go in for highway robbery and peeyish wives who murder their husbands
to all the inconveniences of trials and
jail life—put glasses on them.

"Poor eyesight is responsible for much waywardness and many
a young bandit has been tamed
early in life by putting a pair of spectacles astride his nose," said
Ernest H. Hickenapp, secretary of the American Optometric Association at their convention.

The Literary Digest has taken a poll of 2,000 Democratic political leaders from all parts of the United States, and the result is as follows:
William G. McAdoo, 706 votes; Henry
Ford, 231 votes; Oscar Underwood,
204 votes; Alfred E. Smith, 178 votes;
James M. Cox, 125 votes; Woodrow Wilson, 111 votes; Samuel M. Balston, 91 votes; John W. Davis, 62
votes; William J. Bryan, 41 votes;
Carter Glass, 40 votes.

Every hour, somewhere in the United States, a man's life is taken.
During the past ten years 85,000 murders were committed. One out of every 12,000 Americans is murdered
every year. In Europe this figure is one out of every 634,000.

Gilbert Cosulich, in July Good
Housekeeping, tells some startling facts about this appalling situation.
He says:

"When a prospective assassin in America is about to pull the trigger,
he knows that he will have three powerful friends if he commits the deed.
These three friends are Sentimentality, the New Psychology and Technicality. So he pulls the trigger and takes his chance."

"The American commonwealth frequently forgets that a murderer is its
foe. Indeed, some of its members occasionally sympathize with him. As a result of a citizen's misplaced sympathy with the assassin, the latter may be protected not only from punishment, but even from arrest."

Sir Basil Thomson, former Chief
of Scotland Yard, commenting on the Good Housekeeping article says: "Mr.
Cosulich seems to have missed one point. The number of police employed in America is far smaller in relation to population than is considered necessary in European countries. This has an adverse effect upon the proportion of arrests for serious crime."

"The ordinary practice in some American cities seems to be that when the newspapers lose their interest in a case the police allow it to drop. They are so much overworked
that they have no option."

Take no chances with a woman driving a car; you never can tell what they are going to do. A fellow down near Philadelphia who was being given a lift by a Philadelphia miss of 18 attempted to kiss the fair chauffeur while both hands and
her attention were occupied in driving the car. The young woman promptly ditched the car and the
"kissing bug" is now in the hospital.
The kisser not only escaped the unwelcome kiss but got out of the wreck without being hurt.

MANNING S. WISOR
Manning Wisor passed away at the County Home Monday June 25, 1923,
aged 69 years, 2 months and 18 days.
Death was due to a complication of illness. Mr. Wisor was well known and spent his entire life in Bradford township. He leaves to mourn his death
two brothers and four sisters as follows: Mrs. Elizabeth Louder, of Big-ler; Mrs. Ella Black, of Curwensville;
Mrs. Mary Hull of Krebs; Mrs. Sadie
Green of Grampian and Morris Wisor, of Krebs. The funeral was held at the home of his sister Mrs.
Sadie Green at Mineral Springs, Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made in Stoneville Cemetery.

Emergency Outfits

Are you supplied with what is required for any emergency? For instance, cotton, bandages and adhesive plaster; you will need all of these because accidents WILL happen.

THEY DO NEED WASHING

and in only a few days we'll have them back, lovely,
clean and fresh

Curtains

Soiled and discolored from weeks of soot. Bundle them up today; phone us, and in just a little while we'll return them as crisp and fresh and clean as new.

Blankets

In constant use, these coverings need a frequent bath in pure, rainsoft water, with suds of mild soap. Send them today; you'll enjoy their soft, fleecy freshness when they come home.

Pillows

Don't forget that the ticks and the feathers they contain need washing just as do your pillow-slips. Our special process makes feathers as soft and downy as the day they were plucked.

Wash Rugs

It costs very little to keep them clean by having us launder them regularly.
Send them to us as you do your other

The need of placing a large sum of money at the disposal of Governor Pinchot to be used in driving the bootlegger from the highways of Pennsylvania and ridding the same highways of the bootlegger's customers should be apparent to every reader of a daily newspaper. The incident last evening on the state road between Curwensville and Clearfield should be enough to make every auto driver want to subscribe to this fund. The highways must be made safe for same drivers and the moonshine filled driver must go before this can be accomplished.

Sympathy and sentiment are two of the greatest forces for good in the human family. Without that capacity for sympathy and that feeling of sentiment which characterizes the typical American, our wonderful work of charity as a nation would not have led us across the water to seal the fate of the lustful Hun, nor made us the savior of many a people afflicted by pestilence and poverty.

But sympathy can be wasted; can even be turned to a bad purpose. Often it defeats the very purpose of justice, which is blind to everything but the ultimate.

The Philadelphia Record, in an editorial which we take the privilege of re-printing because it refers to our deceased townsman, Ralph A. Whiteman, points to a flagrant case of misplaced sympathy. In a parallel column is re-printed a beautiful story of sentiment in which mother love battles with a patriotic fervor and emerges unstained to win the plaudits of men of arms.

Governor Pinchot started in to prune legislative appropriations by slashing his own salary to $10,000 per year, the same former governors received. He could have accepted $18,000.

He made a mistake. If he is half the Governor he promised he would be, he was worth all of $18,000 to this state.

But Mr. Pinchot is a millionaire. He does not need any additional money. Another governor may not be so fortunate. It is good to see that he left the amount for education and how could he do otherwise? The mandates of the Edmonds law put a lot of rural districts in the hole and it is up to the state to help them out.

The amount will also go far toward maintaining the present high standard of education in the state. The loss of Dr. Fingean may be in part compensated by a judicious use of this cash. Nobody doubts Dr. Becht's ability.

The Governor's surrender to political pressure in his treatment of Dr. Fingean is another matter.

While his mother sat at the head of the table weeping, with her face buried in her hands, thirty Minneapolis men who bear lasting scars of their service for the allies in the world war Friday night silently drank a toast to a man who went down on a German U-boat in 1918. He was the son of Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, in whose honor, as "the most distinguished delegate" to the convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War a dinner was given.

"I have two things to ask of

MISDIRECTED SYMPATHY
Much sympathy continues to be wasted upon the few slackers who have not as yet been pardoned and are enjoying good health and three fairly good meals a day in the jails of Uncle Sam. But little thought is given by these professedly patriotic rooters for the imprisoned draft dodgers to the thousands of young men scattered all over this country who, while they came back from the world war alive, were so shellshocked or so badly poisoned by gas that

"First, that you will never believe any false stories you may hear about me, stories that I was a German spy, that I was untrue to this, my country, and to you. The second promise I ask of you is that, when I am dead—and it won't be many more years now—you will see to it that I am buried in America, in my country. And, boys, maybe I could have, in a way, the burial of a soldier. Not any fuss. Have them play 'taps' over my grave, as I have sung it to you. Will you promise?"

Every one of the thirty veterans silently stood up as she finished, raised his right hand and gave his solemn pledge.

"I had a son in the German navy. He was mistaken, but he did what he believed was right. I will not apologize for him. I never have. Remember, boys, I was his mother, the same as I was the mother of four sons serving with my country's forces," said Madame Schumann-Heink.

"And now," Colonel George E. Leach, mayor of Minneapolis said, "I propose a toast to that man who went down on the German U-boat in 1918."

The thirty men arose and raised their glasses. Madame Schumann-Heink sank into her chair and covered her face with her hands. Her sobs could be heard by all.

And then those thirty men paid her perhaps the finest tribute she had ever received. Silently, with bowed heads, they stood and waited until she had left the room.

they are physical wrecks, slowly dying and suffering tortures daily while awaiting the end of their hopeless existence.

We have in mind the case of a splendid Pennsylvania boy in the central part of the State who died yesterday after four years of suffering, a victim of shell-shock and gas poisoning. He served with such distinction on European battlefields that he was awarded a Congressional medal of honor, but his service was attended by such physical sacrifices that he has been in daily and hourly agony ever since the close of the war.

Thousands of such cases are known all over the country. Many of the brave boys who served "over there" and who came back have suffered and are suffering much more than the other thousands who were instantly killed; but we have heard less of them, and they have been given less consideration than the slackers who denied their country when it needed them, and who, in the cases of the comparatively few who were jailed, have been better treated and have commanded more sympathy than the brave fellows who have for years been enduring untold tortures as a result of their heroic sacrifices.—Philadelphia Record.

provided for the Division of Geological Survey, which has become a part of the Department of Forests and Waters.

The Treasury appropriations of $519,200 was reduced to $391,000. The budget gave this department only $315,000, a sum equivalent to the $335,000 appropriated in 1921 had the department worked the same number of hours that others worked. The department, however, had a deficiency of $86,527, so that its 1921 appropriation exceeded $420,000. The Governor said that, assuming the department will work the same hours as other departments, it has been better taken care of than others.

The bills as passed by the Legislature and as approved by the Governor, follow:

In beginning his use of the veto in reducing items, the Governor said he first cut his own appropriation for salary from the $18,000 allowed by law to $10,000 a year, thus effecting a saving of $18,000.

Explanation of the Cuts.

The Governor and Clyde L. King, Secretary of State and budget officer, who put in many hours in working out the details of the eliminations explained the cuts made in the various departments just before announcing the totals. There is a reduction in the item of $250,000 for publishing constitutional amendments to $175,000. This was made because several of the proposed amendment resolutions failed and will not have to be advertised.

One of the items of saving was effected in the Adjutant General's Department, the appropriation of which was reduced from $1,762,800 to $1,490,800. An appropriation of $200,000 for armory buildings was eliminated and an item of $50,000 for stables cut out.

More than $400,000 for improvements in Capitol Park was also taken out of the bill. Of this sum $200,000 was cut from the $1,250,000 allowed for the completion of the South Office Building. The $208,000 appropriation items for the parking and landscaping of the undeveloped land in the annexed area to Capitol Park was vetoed entirely. The Governor said he had expected to get the funds for this work but found it impossible.

The Highway Department received the smallest appropriation in its history, but $34,000 being allowed, $24,000 being for the secretary's salary and $10,000 for highway bridges. The item of $980,000 for administrative costs was entirely vetoed. The Governor explained that the department will be in no way crippled by the reduction, because $11,000,000 is available from appropriations of 1917 to 1921, which have not been lapsed. This will provide for salaries and all overhead.

School Appropriation Untouched.

Including the $38,803,246 for reimbursing the school districts, the Department of Public Instruction received $48,401,881.33. No item in the department's appropriations was touched. Among these items is $918,594 for salaries and professional boards, $3,500,000 for state normal schools, $2,797,256 for vocational schools, $169,750 for the state library, now a part of this department; $89,600 for the expenses of the State Board of Censors and $80,000 for the School Retirement Board.

The appropriation of $1,520,300 for the Department of Forests and Waters, the former Department of Forestry, that the Governor headed for several years, was approved without cutting, the largest part of this total $1,299,000, being for administration.

Valuable Gum Mines.

Probably the only gum mines in the world are in New Zealand, where there is a whole district in which fossilized gum from trees that died centuries ago is found a few feet below the surface. The substance is valuable, for it makes the best kind of transparent varnish, and many fortunes have been made by men who have worked it.

New Device for Tempering Steel.

The steel or tool which must be tempered with great accuracy and this is done automatically. The steel is held in the furnace by a magnet against the tension of a spring, and when the required temperature is reached, the steel loses its magnetism and is withdrawn by the spring.

His Appetite Attended To.

Billy was visiting a neighbor and she asked him to stay for dinner. While they were eating they heard his mother calling him to come home to dinner. Running to the window, he said, "Mother the neighbors is attending to my appetite."

To Be Happy at Work.

If you are the sort of woman who cannot work well except under pleasant conditions, it is economy to buy the things that mean this to you. It may only be pretty curtains, light woodwork or a certain kind of wallpaper, but it means everything to certain types of women and results in much more being accomplished.

His New Dignity.

Betty and Dick had a new nephew, and Betty seemed to feel the responsibility. One day when Dick had been unusually mischievous, she said "Dickie have you forgot you just beamed?"

Progress Editorial For Women

A LIFE SENTENCE OR TICKET TO HAPPINESS

By FLORENCE DAVIES

"How much are silver ten sets?" a chap in the office asked me the other day.

"Anything you want to pay for them," I replied, "What's up? Are you buying wedding presents?"

"Not exactly that," he replied with a lazy sort of drawl, "but you see it was just twenty-five years ago today that I got my life sentence."

Of course he didn't mean it. It was just the sort of banter that half the married men think is smart. If he had meant it, you'd better believe he wouldn't have been looking for silver tea sets to take the gold old girl who had been his kindly pallor all these years.

And yet back of the banter about the married man's lack of freedom there is often a little hint of rebellion. They wouldn't be free if they could, but still the chains chafe.

It was the same feeling, doubtless, which made a man refer to his wife, the other day, as "a ball and chain," and so give her grounds for divorce.

If the man was right, one wonders why it was not he who was granted the divorce instead of the wife.

For surely a wife ought to be anything but a ball and chain. She should give a man wings, not shackles; she should furnish him with inspiration, and courage, with such sympathy and confidence that he would find himself possessed of a new motive power, a new sense of assurance and a new freedom because of his new confidence.

"But" you ask, "does not a man in a way take on shackles with the responsibility of marriage? Does he not indeed assume a 'greater responsibility'?"

By ALL means he does. But that is just where we women fail to understand. It is not the solid iron bars of this new responsibility against which a man rebels. Those he assumes because he wants to. The barriers which fret him are made of twigs, the little twigs of petty encroachments upon his time and freedom of personal action.

The nagging little questions and limitations, the interference with this personal tastes and personal freedom is what he abhors.

"Where have you been?" "Where are you going?" "It's a wonder you wouldn't take me, why should you want to go off with the boys when you never get a chance to take a trip with me?" and a thousand other little insistent, nagging queries and demands which spell ball and chain.

Nothing in this world is so dear as personal freedom, just that kind of individual liberty which lets human beings go to bed when he pleases, get up when he pleases and eat what he desires.

Men have fought and bled and died for a freedom which only touched their pocket books. They would fight and die again for a freedom which touched their personal lives if the jailer were a government and not an overly anxious or overly fussy wife.

The sense of personal identity is the dearest thing we have. If the woman who just received the silver tea set had realized that 25 years ago, I wonder if her husband would not have said "I got my ticket to happiness 25 years ago today," instead of referring, even jokingly to his marriage as a life sentence.

Thanks to a very old friend, a spirit corresponding in so many ways with the Jim. In Mohammedan mythology the Jim are good and beautiful who assume the form of a giant, etc. In this same mythology there are also the Jinn, or demons of the lowest order. On old Persian tales they are referred to as the Afris but Longfellow, in his "Golden Milestone" (stanza 2), refers to them as belonging to Arabian story.—Literary Digest.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mrs. Richards and Dorndetta, who have been conducting a pool room one door east of the gas factory for several years, have sold out their equipment to Jim Richards, who will possess the tables to the basement of the Park hotel. Henry Meltsenrath, who disposed of his building on the north side of the street to Joe Fullerton, will occupy the room made vacant by Richards and Dorndetta as a pool and billiard room, taking possession today.

Paul Conklin and wife, former residents, now living at St. Petersburg, Fla., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dillman Wall, east George street. Mrs. Conklin being a sister of Mrs. Wall and a daughter of the late John D. Wright.

Misses Lois and Margaret Hykes of Pittsburgh, arrived in Curwensville the latter part of last week to spend some time with their grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCloskey, Ridge avenue.

Mrs. James Cadman has removed her household goods to Williamsport in which city she expects to make her home with her son, John who has a lucrative position in that city, which was principally built from lumber cut and run down the river from Clearfield county.

Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Reed and daughter Berline and Mrs. Ruth Horsemann and daughter left Saturday morning by auto for a trip over into Jefferson county for a two day visit with several sons who are living there.

Edward Smith, of Philadelphia, a former State Road Inspector in this section several years ago, was a Curwensville visitor for several days last and this week.

Percy Holton and son, James, left on Sunday for a trip to Cleveland, Ohio. On their return they will each bring home a new car.

Edward Balute, a son of Jack Balute South Side, was married at Boardman on Saturday, Miss Mary Bakor-an of that place, being the bride.

Rev. B. H. Conley and family have returned home from a two week's vacation tour.

Rev. John Cameron, who has been the successful pastor of the Baptist church in this place for the past two or three years, has resigned his pastorate and will remove from Curwensville. The people of Curwensville are generally sorry to know that he will not remain among them; he is an able man and a worker and has done more to hold the Baptist people together and put the church on a solid footing than any other minister of that charge that has been here for many years.

Misses Margaret Jane Overly and Lola Antes, both of Clearfield, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Collins over Saturday.

After being a week in Curwensville the Spencer Shows has departed for new fields. It is the general opinion that this aggregation was not much of a benefit to the town in more ways than one. The financial share of the Rescue, Hose and Ladder company amounted to about $300. Question? What is the difference, so far as gambling is concerned, between operating a candy board, a paddle wheel, nickel in the slot machine, throwing the dice for chance, a shooting match for targets, etc., than having a board with numbers which you place your dime with the expectation of getting a doll later, a little fruit and a number of other devices of a like sort. Can our District Attorney explain clearly where in lies the distinction?

Several days ago two boys at Glen Richey named Mason were badly burned by an explosion of powder and taken to the hospital. Saturday one of them died, and Funeral Director Doverspike went down and got the body and prepared it for burial.

Mrs. E. C. Doverspike left last week for a visit to her old home in New Bethlehem.

The funeral of James Albert, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wise, was held yesterday afternoon at the farm home out on Chestnut Ridge. The body was interred in the Oak Hill cemetery.

Yesterday afternoon Curwensville Lodge No. 486 Knights of Pythias, held its annual Memorial services over the brothers who had passed on to join the Great Supreme Chancellor above. The weather proved propitious for the occasion, and more than a half hundred Sir Knights wended their way to the cemetery and formed a hollow square about the mound of Rush M. Decker, the last death occurring within the Lodge Circle. Members of the order then read the exercises as prescribed by the Supreme Mandate. A male choir composed of Messrs Hile, Frank, Dougherty, Way, Bloom, Kirk, Haines and Hips, with Miss Alve Kirk presiding at the organ rendered three appropriate selections. The persons who had been devoted to make addresses were unable to be present, therefore, Rev. J. E. Stein of Harrisburg, who happened to be in town, substituted, choosing for his ten minute talk two points "What is Life and What is Death." When he finished the lodge men completed their exercises. Curwensville lodge has lost by death, since its organization, 38 members as follows: several of whom lie buried in the far west:

Chester Deering and wife came in from Endicott, N. Y. on Saturday for a weeks stay with his father, Mr. S. C. Deering over on Anderson street. The company by whom he is employed are erecting a million dollar tannery.

Ned, Bloom and wife drove to Curwensville Saturday from New Bethlehem, Pa., and spent some time with relatives. They returned home Sunday afternoon, taking with them their daughter, Miss Helen, who has been spending several months with her grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Bloom, South Pine street.

Friendly Philosophy. Nature punishes neglect and plays no favorites. The neglected field becomes an unsightly mass of tangled briars and rank weeds; the undrained swamp a stagnant receptacle for noxious growths; the human brain an inefficient generator of faulty and misleading ideas unless directed into channels of reason and truth. No loss is indeed costly.—J. E. F.

HEARD ALONG THE BANKS OF THE MOSHANNON

A Jewett car said to have been driven by Pike Whitton, of Phillipsburg, missed the road at the curve turning into Hawk Run late Saturday night, the car overturning. The occupants of the car were more or less injured but the injuries were only slight as the car was immediately driven to Phillipsburg. Outside of a broken windshield, the car was only slightly damaged. The said curve is one of the worst on the new stretch of highway from Phillipsburg to Allport and danger signs or lights of some sort should be placed there. At least a half dozen cars have met the same fate at this particular curve. It is now made more dangerous since the building of a store on the Hawk Run side of the curve, as cars coming from the latter place are not visible until they reach the state road.

Miss Gertrude McConville, of Phillipsburg, and Mr. Ernest Moore, of Clearfield, were united in wedlock on Wednesday morning, the nuptials taking place at St. Francis Catholic church, Clearfield. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray, of Clearfield, were the attendants.

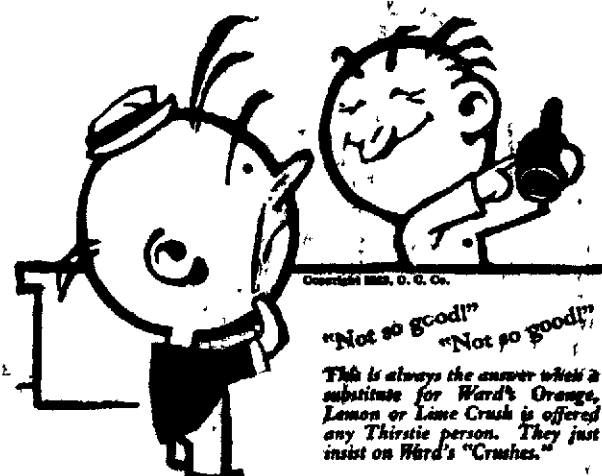

Harry Kephart, of Morgan Run, was very seriously injured Saturday morning at the clay mines at that place when part of the roof fell on him. Both thighs were fractured and he also received a compound fracture of the right leg below the knee.

George Voyzey, of New Liberty and Miss Catherine Nearhood, of Warriors Mark, were united in wedlock on June 20th, at the Methodist parsonage at Tyrone. Both young people are popular hereabouts and their numerous friends extend heartiest well wishes.

Sense of Humor.
A sense of humor is a very fine thing. It lifts one above the rough places as it were, with a soft and a bound, and lands one in a position of the further bank of the swollen and threatening stream. You keep young if you possess it; the twinkle in your eye is a sign that old age is far from you yet, whatever your years may be. All the same, a sense of humor is a gift which must be displayed with discretion. The trouble is that, with most of us, it stops working when we need it most—that is, when things go wrong with our own affairs. The man who can smile when this happens is a hero.—Philadelphia.

Her Lover's Mean Trick.
A new boy came to our school and I soon let him know that I was his for the asking. But he never asked. One day our teacher was late in coming because of a heavy snowfall. The school was in an uproar, everybody trying to think up something more raggy than his neighbor. Suddenly something fell in my lap. Sure enough it was from a box. It looked like a piece of crushed chocolate candy. I gave him an adorable smile and started to eat the supposed candy. He had extracted the filling and placed chalk colored chalk in it instead.—Chicago Journal.

Temperament.
On the big curve coming into the 'rich' wayide station, the train stopped longer than usual one morning, and the guard, descending from his van, walked up to the driver. "What are you stoppin' for?" he inquired. "Sure, and can't you see the signal is again red?" retorted the driver. The guard snorted contemptuously. "It's mighty particular you're getting all of a sudden," he said to the driver (London).

Everything In Readiness For "Biggest Fourth Of July"

GREATEST RUSH OF IMMIGRATION EVER SEEN BEGINS TODAY

On a island, July 2.—The lid of the melting pot, which the new world has been lifted today to the greatest rush of immigration since the new restriction went into effect two years ago.

Over found the staff officers who had observed throughout Sunday once more at work passing the first of the 2,500 immigrants who are expected to gain admission to the United States today.

Two thousand seventy-four, first of the human cargoes dumped here by a down train—Atlantic liners the moment the new immigration law began, were admitted Sunday. The rush of immigrants seeking homes here, huddled for the most part, according to their stories, by high wages such as $12.50 per day paid to bricklayers, to be admitted Tuesday afternoon was the largest that any single admission had one time in the past.

CHICAGO OFFICIAL DECLARES WAR ON 'THE BUCKET SHOPS'

Chicago, July 2.—State's Attorney Robert Crowe began today an attempt to send officials of 50 Chicago bucket shop brokerage houses to the penitentiary. Crowe announced that his assistant, George Gorman, will lay a charge before the grand jury, starting today to show they have defrauded the public out of more than $200,000 annually.

May Enforcement Head Takes Over Reigns In Pennsylvania Today

Philadelphia, July 2.—R. V. Sams, division and prohibition enforcement chief today took over the work of "drying up" Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey, succeeding P. M. Sullivan, who has been transferred to Florida. Enforcement of the prohibition laws by educational methods rather than coercion will be the policy of his regime, Sams said.

HARD COAL PARLEY BEGINS JULY 6 AT ATLANTIC CITY

Atlantic City, Pa., July 2.—Official announcement was made here today by William Brown, president of District No. 1 United Mine Workers, that the coal wage parley between the mine owners and operators will start July 6 at Atlantic City. The first session will start at the Hotel Atlantic at two o'clock Friday afternoon.

Livingstone, July 2.—Members of President Harding's party fought a snow battle on Mt. Washington in Yellowstone National Park Sunday afternoon when the temperature in the valley below remained at summer heat.

When the party ran through the snow trail filled with new drifts, the temptation was too strong and in a minute the new trails were flying thick and fast.

PINOCHOT SIGNS APPROPRIATION BILL; HE CUTS IT

Harrisburg, July 2.—Governor Pinchot continued the cutting down process on appropriation bills, demonstrated in the general appropriation bill Saturday when he reduced the $50,000 appropriation to the Department of Agriculture to fight the Japanese beetle in this state to $30,000.

The Governor explained the cut in a statement that the federal government would provide some of the money lost in the reduction of the state appropriation to fight this pest. The beetle, according to the State Department of Agriculture, is beginning to make inroads on the state's crops and unless federal funds are available, it was said it will have infested the greater part of the state before it can be exterminated.

Harrisburg, July 2.—The General Appropriation Bill, carrying the ordinary running expenses of the state government for the biennial period, June 1, 1923, to June 1, 1925, was approved tonight by Governor Pinchot in the sum of $30,865,254.12. The Legislature passed the bill with items aggregating $32,845,354.12, and the total of the cuts made by the Governor amounted to $2,150,000.

The budget presented to the General Assembly as a guide in making its appropriations, carried for general purposes $80,157,115 or $800,000 less than the items of the bill as approved. But, as Governor Pinchot pointed out just after he had affixed his signature to the bill, he cut in comparable items more than $1,000,000 net below the budget figures.

There were two items that enter into this reduction. In the first place the bill carries $17,800,000 more for schools than the $21,000,000 allowed by the budget, but on the other hand items for $16,850,000 for hospitals and charities were eliminated from the measure, these institutions being cared for in separate bills when the lump-sum plan was abandoned. This decrease left more than a million dollars that had to be made up in reductions in appropriations to debts, and these cuts, with the difference between the budget and the bill figures, makes up the total amount of the cuts.

Cut on Hospitals Coming.

So far the Governor has approved other appropriation bills for $18,343,453.85, including the Delaware River bridge appropriation, so that with the bill approved today he has appropriated $99,145,907.77. The hospital bills, 300 or so in number, are yet to be acted upon, and the Governor tonight intimated that he will keep the figures as near the budget estimate as possible. He said that of the $2,500,000 cut below the budget that is necessary because of the increase in school appropriations and other increases in the cost of government, he has cut in the general bill approximately $1,000,000.

The largest item in the bill is $38,903,246 for the school districts. This appropriation alone is larger than the total of any general appropriation bill ever signed by a Pennsylvania Governor, except the bills approved in 1919 and 1921 by Governor Sprout, Woodward and Snyder Sliced.

The Governor made decisive cuts into the appropriations for the Department of Internal Affairs and the State Treasury, cutting the appropriations for Secretary of Internal Affairs $225,000, and those for State Treasurer Snyder $128,800.

In speaking of the Internal Affairs Department, the Governor said that on April 8 he had told the Legislature that "there is no longer a need or place for a single Department of Internal Affairs." He then added that the overhead cost of the department "is wholly unnecessary and it should be abolished," as it "represents a needless waste." He allowed the department $395,000, instead of the $478,100 the bill carried. The Governor said he allowed the department what the budget allowed the amount (Continued On Page Four.)

Freedom—and Home

Mrs. Mary Lonergan, of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent the first day of her freedom, after being acquitted of the murder of her husband, with some of her 14 children and the rest of the family. She called it her first day of rest since she was married 30 years ago.

ATTEMPTS TO PASS BETWEEN TWO CARS APPROACHING EACH OTHER; HITS BOTH BUT HE KEEPS ON GOING

One of those imbeciles who make driving a car a nightmare for careful drivers, shot across Second street bridge about 9 o'clock last evening. At this time Fred Forsyth, of Kellytown, was driving across the bridge and near this end of the bridge a Ford coupe approached. Each car occupied its own side of the roadway and would have passed without incident but when they were about 25 feet apart one of the birds we have in mind in our opening sentence shot up behind the Forsyth car and made for the narrowing opening. He managed to get by the skin of his teeth, although he banged against the Ford and then came off against Forsyth's Franklin.

The fenders of both cars were bent and twisted but the damphool got away down Bridge street before they could catch his number.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO RALPH WHITEMAN, WORLD WAR HERO

The funeral of the late Sergeant Ralph A. Whiteman took place this morning at 10 o'clock from St. Francis church, 1414 North Second street, celebrated by the pastor, Rev. M. A. Ryan.

John Shade Post of the American Legion had charge of the funeral and a large concourse of people turned out to pay their last tribute of respect to one of Clearfield's very finest young men, who gave his all in defense of his country. Interment was made in Calvary cemetery.

The pall bearers were: J. Mitchell Chase, Edward T. Kelley, John H. Fulford, James Lytle, William T. Hagerty, Raymond J. Considine.

Miss Augusta Read returned last evening from Pittsburgh, where she has been spending some time visiting relatives and friends.

ALTHOUGH HANDCUFFED AND IN IRONS, "BAD MAN" ED RUST KILLS HIS CAPTOR AND ESCAPES FROM PASSENGER TRAIN

Fargo, N. D., July 2.—Snatching a gun from the belt of Sheriff Fulkner, Ed Rust, a "bad man," shot the officer to death and leaped through the window of a train on which he was being taken to prison. The shooting occurred near Wolverton, Montana, late last night, and was reported here today. The desperado, known also as Roy James, is still at large.

With his hands manacled and his legs encased in irons he signaled to Sheriff Fulkner on a seat opposite that he wanted to whisper to him. As

Harrisburg, July 2.—The State tax on gasoline will be increased today from one cent to two cents a gallon, the Her-Ison Liquid Fuels Tax Act becoming effective. This law, which is expected to add upward of $5,000,000 to the commonwealth's revenues in the present biennium, was passed with the Armstrong emergency net profits tax measure by the last Legislature as a means to realize the needed $20,000,000 additional revenue.

The one-cent tax law has been in effect two years, and the additional cent is provided as an emergency impost for the next two years. As in the past, the counties in which the tax is collected will continue to get one half a cent on each gallon of gasoline sold, but the State will now receive one and one-half cents on each gallon.

Dealers must be registered with the Auditor General, and the new act provides that no dealer shall, after the effective date of the law, sell any liquid fuels until he has filed a certificate of registration. Failure to comply with that provision of the act is a misdemeanor and subjects the dealer to a fine of $1000.

Auditor General Lewis has sent out thousands of the blank forms of the certificates, but so far many dealers have not filled them in and returned them. The forms are printed on a questionnaire relating to the dealer's name, address and when sales were commenced.

Robert P. Armstrong has gone to Williamsport to spend the week with friends in that city.

Clearfield county will no doubt assume its full share of the duty of raising funds to make it possible for Governor Pinchot to enforce the state dry law. It will be recalled that the legislature passed an enforcement act but refused to give the governor any money to pay the expenses of enforcement.

Friends of the dry laws expect to raise a fund of a quarter of a million dollars to be used by the state under the direction of the governor for special officers, getting of evidence, etc., as was the intent of the dry law. The W. C. T. U. are fostering the drive and it was started in the Clearfield County churches yesterday with the reading of a proclamation by the W. C. T. U. and favorable comment by the several pastors.

The following proclamation was read:

"The Keystone state of the Nation the home of the liberty bell and the birthplace of the Constitution, we hereby proclaim that the traditions of loyalty to the National Constitution upheld by patriots of our state on the fields of Valley Forge and Gettysburg shall be maintained by our loyal citizens and to this end we call to active cooperation all temperance, prohibition, religious and philanthropic bodies, all patriotic, fraternal, civil associations and all Pennsylvanians who love their state to make good the $250,000 for Law Enforcement, refused to our Governor by our State Legislature.

ELLA M. GEORGE, President.
AMANDA LANDES, V-Pres.
ELLA BROOMELL, Cor. Secy.
CECELIA MICHELFELDER, Rec-Secy.

LEAH COBB MARION, Treas.

This proclamation has been broadcast over the state during the week and the campaign is on in earnest. The money will be subscribed and every lover of the temperance cause should have a part in the work. Do not wait to be solicited. Local contributions are directed to be paid to the County National Bank to the "250,000 Enforcement Fund."

A GALLON JUG OF MOONSHINE ONLY WRECK CASUALTY

Several minor automobile wrecks were reported from different sections immediately adjoining Clearfield Sunday. In the morning an automobile and a motorcycle disputed the right of way on the hill on the state road just above the cut-off into Wallace. The motorcycle came out second best but there were no serious injuries sustained by anybody.

About 8:30 last evening three young men were traveling toward Curwensville in a Ford coupe. Regardless of the known fact that moonshine "biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder," it is said the occupants of the coupe had been storing some away. At any rate and however, when the crossing at the coal mine this side of the New York Central bridge over the river, the car was shooting along too rapidly to take the curve and the driver wheeled her right up the railroad track possibly fifty feet or until the car piled over the embankment onto the concrete road below. It was a darned shame, too, because the Henry was a sorry looking bit of tin when she landed, but what is worse, or was believed more by the occupants of the car, who all escaped injury, a perfectly good gallon jug, said to have been full of moonshine, was smashed to smithereens, while its contents oozed about over the concrete road.

SEVEN BANDS WILL ENLIVEN BIG PARADE IN WHICH THERE WILL BE OVER FIFTY BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED AUTOMOBILES

LINE OF PARADE

Forms on streets south of Cherry street.
Moves south on Second street to Market street.
West on Market street to Front street.
North on Front street to Pine, East on Pine to Second, North on Second to Reed, East on Reed to Third, South on Third to Market, East on Market to Fourth, South on Fourth to Cherry, West on Cherry to Third, North on Third to Market, West on Market to Second, North on Second to the Park.

LOCAL YOUNG MEN 'SQUEAL' ON BOOZE PEDDLER OF BOGGS

County Detective Snyder and State Trooper Pierce attended the carnival at Curwensville Saturday night and while looking things over discovered four or five Clearfield lads "drinking from the same canteen." Descent was made upon the bibulous ones and the whole gang corralled and haled before Squire John A. Dale, who salted each fellow with a $5.00 fine for disorderly conduct.

The local lads to escape a more serious charge told the officers where they had purchased their moonshine and a certain Boggs township bootlegger will find things happening to him about tonight.

A couple of Curwensville men were also arrested at the carnival, and they, too may have to answer a liquor peddling charge.

Hand Is Lacerated Badly When Caught In Washing Machine

Little Miss Jean Shirey, daughter of Roy Shirey of Bradford township, had her hand very severely hurt early today while assisting with the family washing. The little girl, who is only eleven years of age, was helping the housekeeper with the weekly washing when in some manner her fingers caught in the cogs of the electrically driven wringer and before it could be stopped the bones of one finger had been stripped of the flesh and the entire hand was badly crushed. It was impossible to get a doctor at once for the emergency and she was finally put into a car and driven to the Clearfield hospital where her injuries are receiving attention.

Pennsylvania Will Investigate Books Being Used In Schools

Harrisburg, July 2.—Investigation of history text books used in the public schools to learn if any of them contain "improper material" was authorized by Governor Pinchot today. Governor Pinchot signed the White House resolution today calling upon the Department of Publication to make the investigation and list any which, in its judgment, should be banned. The report is to be presented to the next session of the Assembly, making recommendations if legislation is deemed necessary.

The Rev. William L. Armstrong left today for Dickinson College at Carlisle, where he will sit as a member of the Conference Board of Examiners.

Fireworks Display in the Evening to Be Made a Big Feature; Horse Racing of High Class.

4TH TO AMUSE ALL

Everything is set and in readiness for Clearfield's biggest Fourth of July, which John Shade Post of the American Legion has arranged to stage on Wednesday next. The different committees in charge of the multitude of details incident to a celebration the size of this one have been working like beavers for the past three months and have left nothing undone which is necessary for making this a national holiday long to be remembered and the person who fails to be in Clearfield on the Fourth will really miss something he long will regret not having witnessed.

There will be something to please everybody from the time the big program opens with the parade in the morning until the last bonfire of the fireworks announces that one more anniversary of this great nation's independence has passed into history.

Parade To Be Biggest Ever.

Surface indications point to the finest parade ever staged in Clearfield. It will consist of three sections and will line up as follows:—

- First Division.
Marshals and colors.
Curwensville Legion Band.
World War Veterans.
Spanish American War Veterans.
G. A. R. in Automobiles.
 - Second Division.
Clearfield Fire Department.
Clearfield Italian Band.
Italian Societies.
Independent Order Red Men.
Loyal Order of Moose.
 - Third Division.
Civic Organizations and Floats.
Business and Industrial Floats.
- The reviewing stand will be located in front of the Court House and all "Gold Star" mothers are invited to take seats in the stand with the reviewing officers.
- Following the third division the parade will be made up of over 500 handsome floats, intermingled with the following bands: Curwensville Grampian, Woodland, Wallace, Dobyn's colored band and Clearfield American Legion Band.
- Real Horse Racing.
- Some real horse racing is assured (Continued On Page Two.)

Legion patrons on the Fourth as the $1.50 purses has attracted more than two hours of the best harness racing in the section of Western Pennsylvania to Clearfield. There is a great deal of feeling between the owners and drivers of several of these horses and there will be a real "drive to win" in each event. The racing card is as follows:

2:15 Pace or Trot.

Teeny Night, Mike Meyer.
Peter Gehagan, James Mahaffey.
Clay Todd, Squire Kennedy.
George Summers, Charles Gill.
Queen Colette, James Mahaffey.

2:25 Pace.

Big Carnival All Week.

The Geo. L. Dobyns Shows, one of the largest carnivals on the road, has been secured for the entire week and will open at the Park this evening. The carnival came here from Turtle Creek, near Pittsburgh, and was late in arriving. A big crowd patiently awaited at the Pennsy station until the show train arrived, but they waited to see just what it meant to see a show of this size unload and move its 40 wagons over the streets to the Driving Park, which was done with as much ease as if it were a moving van changing a store's fixtures from one address to another. There was the clanging of chains and horses' hoofs on the streets and the big wagons looked like freight cars, but everything went along with ease until a voice called out in a commanding way: "Where is Mr. Wayne Fluck? He is on the committee to see that I have a nice place to rest." This voice was no one other than Princess Conetta, the smallest lady of today. Hearing this, Minnie Ha Ha said, "Now, where is he?" and the outcome was that Mrs. Wayne Fluck said Wayne could take the Princess and show her where she had rooms engaged but her brother would have to escort Minnie Ha Ha, as he would be more than pleased to do. He was more than surprised to see just who Minnie was. He had pictured her as a very fine looking chorus girl. Then came Mitchell Chase in for his bit of fun and volunteered to escort Minnie to her quarters.

Every one was busy. Mr. Stephen met each and every one, telling them where they were to reside for the week. Every hotel was filled to its capacity and private homes were opened to the show folks. Everyone seemed to be a part of the show, even to Mrs. Wayne Fluck, who has postponed a bridge party for tonight to entertain some of them.

Aviator De Lane!
Lieut. Wm. H. Emery, Jr., assisted by Burton Jones, the youngest and most daring parachute jumper and wing walking performer in the world, will entertain you on the Fourth of July at the American Legion celebration.

Lieut. Emery, a former army flyer and instructor, is one of the best and most daring exhibition flyers in the world. He will have a new aeroplane for this occasion, one built especially for exhibition flying and carrying of passengers. Lieut. Emery will perform fancy stunts while Dare Devil Jones performs on the wing of the airplane, which will be traveling at the rate of 100 miles per hour. Dare Devil Jones will make a parachute flying jump from the plane while flying a thousand feet above the park and land in the oval at the race track. This daring feat has never been attempted, except by young Dare Devil Burton Jones.

Lieut. Emery arrived this morning and will take up passengers until after the Fourth. Now is your chance to view Clearfield and surrounding towns from the air. Flying field at the Driving Park.

Spanish War Veterans will please call at the Legion headquarters in the County National Bank building between the hours of nine and ten a. m. to receive badges and admission tickets. They will form in front of the High School at 10 a. m. for the parade. After the parade these veterans will be guests of the Legion at the Driving Park, where a lunch will be provided.

All Civil War veterans who do not come in on morning trains will meet at the Court House corner near the reviewing stand, where the old soldiers' committee will receive them. This committee will meet all incoming trains with cars and will also call for all Civil War soldiers residing in Clearfield for whom it has names and addresses. These men of '64 will ride in cars in the parade and will be guests of the Legion for the noon lunch at the Park. They will also be entertained by the committee during the afternoon.

World war veterans will report at the Legion headquarters. They will form for parade at 10 o'clock on Front street near Witmer Park. Everybody out in uniform.

Antient Manuscript.
The oldest manuscript written on cotton paper in England is in the British museum and bears the date of 1049. The most ancient manuscript on the same material in the Library of Paris is dated 1050. In 1635 A. D. the Christian successors of the Spaniards discovered a manuscript in the island of raw cotton, which is recognized by its yellowness and brittleness.

Frank Lightning Strikes.
There is an instance on record of a couple of men who were traveling in the Voeges mountains. They rushed for trees to escape the pelting, driving rain. A stroke of lightning knocked them senseless, and it was thought on first examination that they were dead. The best attention and care were given them, and they survived, but on the back of each, extending to the thighs, was the imprint of leaves of a lime tree.

An Apprehension.
"Do you think we will have government ownership of railroads?"
"I hope not. I'd like to be able to speak my mind when a train is late without being accused of disrespect to the administration."

How to build up your Weight

To be under weight often proves a low fighting power in the body. It often means you are minus nervous power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S.S.S. has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S.S.S. will build them.

S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

"SKIRTS AS BRIEF AS WIDOWS' GRIEF"

Hem of Viola Dana's Dress Is Full Three Inches Above Her Knees

Viola Dana has gone daring French society leaders one better, by wearing a skirt exactly three inches above the knee—to quote James J. Montague, Viola's "skirts are as brief as a widow's grief."

"Before you raise your eyebrows in horror, let it be explained that Viola's penchant for brevity is born of her becoming a child of thirteen for one episode of her new picture, Irvin S. Cobb's "The Five Dollar Baby," now at the Driggs Theatre. With the little pigtail hat were one of her outstanding characteristics, and a gingham dress that was a part of her childish wardrobe. Viola again is living over the days of her Brooklyn kidhood.

An evidence of the slight change that the years have made in the little star's physical make-up may be found in the fact that the same gingham apron which she wore in her initial stage appearances—in "The Poor Little Rich Girl"—is being worn in this Harry Beaumont production. Other garments that are associated with her girlish successes of the

WATCH REPAIRING DONE AS IT SHOULD BE

There isn't a watch that comes in here but what gets our best attention, whether it is simply a "dollar watch" or one of the highest priced time pieces.

We not only attend to the thing that you requested done but, if in doing this work we find that there is something else wrong that needs attention—we give it the attention.

Then, when you get your watch, you know that it is right and will keep the time you want it to keep.

Trinitrotoluene
"T. N. T." is an abbreviation for trinitro-toluene, a very powerful explosive used in shells, mines, hand grenades and torpedoes. It is formed from toluene by treatment of this hydrocarbon with strong nitric acid in the presence of concentrated sulphuric acid. Toluene is one of the products of the distillation of coal tar. T. N. T. crystallizes in almost white needles, and at ordinary temperatures it is quite stable. It burns with a smoky flame when ignited. In its chemical composition the molecule of trinitrotoluene consists of seven carbon atoms, five hydrogen atoms, three nitrogen atoms and six oxygen atoms.

MAKE MILK THE MAIN ARTICLE OF YOUR DIET AS THE HOT WEATHER COMES ON

There is every food need in our milk. There is one thing that will build muscle, another that will make bone, another that will make brain, and they are combined in such a way that the balance is good.

If you will start in now drinking at least a quart of our milk every day during the hot weather, you will find that you are getting all you need to satisfy your hunger and keep your body and mind in the condition it should be.

MENIHAN'S ARCH-AID SHOES

The strongest appeal is always—Beauty

Dress is an adornment as well as a protection—and he is bold indeed who shall say that it is wrong for a woman to desire trim, stylish footwear. Unfortunately, the most beautiful feature of the foot, its arch, is frequently the weakest.

If temporary discomfort were the only result of incorrect footwear few women would choose relief at the expense of style. But the weak or fallen arch is a "progressive" failing. . . . It does not cure itself without assistance. Menihan's Arch-Aid Shoes are beautiful shoes—stylish in line, correct in finish. They support the foot on scientific principles, emphasizing and maintaining the slim, graceful contour of the arches.

Wear them now and you will not suffer the mortification of adopting "homely" footwear to secure relief. We can fit you in this smart, white linen oxford and in many other styles.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. L. G.

Lynchings in the United States in the first six months of 1923 dropped
to eleven, compared with 33 for the same period in 1922, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People announces. The decrease
was attributed to agitation for a federal anti-lynching law and to the northward migration of negroes.

Senator Couzens, the Detroit millionaire, who coined his money out of
fortunate investment with Henry
Ford before his flounder became famous, and who was appointed by the governor of the state to represent
Michigan in the Senate, appoints himself to lead the wet forces in the next Congress in their looted-for assault on the Volstead Act. In a statement
at Detroit Thursday "Millionaire"
Jim offers encouragement to the wets
in the following "guesses":

"The next session of Congress
probably will see the Volstead act
amended to permit the sale of beer
containing not more than five per cent
alcohol," was the prophecy made by Senator Couzens upon his return
from a short tour in Canada.

Senator Couzens characterized the
prohibition law "as federal authorities are now attempting to enforce
it," as "ridiculous and impossible of
enforcement."

Five per cent beer is not intoxicating and "no sane person would maintain that it is," Senator Couzens is quoted as saying.

"The present enforcement act was put over" on the country when the people were in the midst of a world
war," Senator Couzens said. "The country does not want prohibition
now. To ask a man to drink a beverage containing one-half of one pe-

cent is ridiculous. We want a liberal interpretation of the phrase "intoxicating liquors" which is mentioned in the eighteenth amendment. The amendment says nothing about one-
half of one per cent."

Senator Couzens added that he
would "never tolerate a return of the
old time saloon, and will never stand
for the sale of whisky or hard liquors,
even under government supervision."

"We can get along without whisky," he said, "and I personally would
like to see the manufacture and sale
of it so effectively stopped that it would not be possible to obtain it even
for medicinal purposes."

Instead of subjecting bad boys who go in for highway robbery and peevish wives who murder their husbands
to all the inconveniences of trials and
jail life—put glasses on them.

"Poor eyesight is responsible
for much waywardness and many
a young bandit has been tamed
early in life by putting a pair of spectacles astride his nose," said
Ernest H. Hickenapp, secretary
of the American Optometric Association at their convention.

The Literary Digest has taken a poll of 2,000 Democratic political leaders from all parts of the United States, and the result is as follows:
William G. McAdoo, 706 votes; Henry
Ford, 231 votes; Oscar Underwood,
204 votes; Alfred E. Smith, 178 votes;
James M. Cox, 125 votes; Woodrow Wilson, 111 votes; Samuel M. Rat-ston, 91 votes; John W. Davis, 62
votes; William J. Bryan, 41 votes;
Carter Glass, 40 votes.

Every hour, somewhere in the United States, a man's life is taken.
During the past ten years 85,000 murders were committed. One out of every 12,000 Americans is murdered
every year. In Europe this figure is one out of every 634,000.

Gilbert Cosulich, in July Good
Housekeeping, tells some startling
facts about this appalling situation.
He says:

"When a prospective assassin in America is about to pull the trigger,
he knows that he will have three powerful friends if he commits the deed.
These three friends are Sentimental-
ity, the New Psychology and Technicality. So he pulls the trigger and
takes his chance."

"The American commonwealth frequently forgets that a murderer is its
foe. Indeed, some of its members occasionally sympathize with him. As a result of a citizen's misplaced sympathy with the assassin, the latter
may be protected not only from punishment, but even from arrest."

Sir Basil Thomson, former Chief
of Scotland Yard, commenting on the
Good Housekeeping article says: "Mr.
Cosulich seems to have missed one point. The number of police employed in America is far smaller in relation to population than is considered necessary in European countries. This has an adverse effect upon the proportion of arrests for serious crime."

"The ordinary practice in some American cities seems to be that
when the newspapers lose their interest in a case the police allow it to drop. They are so much overworked
that they have no option."

Take no chances with a woman
driving a car; you never can tell
what they are going to do. A fellow
down near Philadelphia who was
being given a lift by a Philadelphia miss of 18 attempted to kiss the
fair chauffeur while both hands and
her attention were occupied in driving the car. The young woman promptly ditched the car and the
"kissing bug" is now in the hospital.
The kisser not only escaped the unwelcome kiss but got out of the wreck without being hurt.

MANNING S. WISOR

Manning Wisor passed away at the County Home Monday June 25, 1923,
aged 69 years, 2 months and 18 days.
Death was due to a complication of illness. Mr. Wisor was well known and spent his entire life in Bradford township. He leaves to mourn his death
two brothers and four sisters as follows: Mrs. Elizabeth Louder, of Big-
ler; Mrs. Ella Black, of Curwensville;
Mrs. Mary Hull of Krebs; Mrs. Sadie
Green of Grampian and Morris Wisor, of Krebs. The funeral was held at the home of his sister Mrs.
Sadie Green at Mineral Springs. Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made in Stoneville Cemetery.

The need of placing a large sum of money at the disposal of Governor Pinchot to be used in driving the bootlegger from the highways of Pennsylvania and ridding the same highways of the bootlegger's customers should be apparent to every reader of a daily newspaper. The incident last evening on the state road between Curwensville and Clearfield should be enough to make every auto driver want to subscribe to this fund. The highways must be made safe for sane drivers and the moonshine filled driver must go before this can be accomplished.

Sympathy and sentiment are two of the greatest forces for good in the human family. Without that capacity for sympathy and that feeling of sentiment which characterizes the typical American, our wonderful work of charity as a nation would not have led us across the water to seal the fate of the lustful Hun, nor made us the savior of many a people afflicted by pestilence and poverty.

But sympathy can be wasted; can even be turned to a bad purpose. Often it defeats the very purpose of justice, which is blind to everything but the ultimate.

The Philadelphia Record, in an editorial which we take the privilege of re-printing because it refers to our deceased townsman, Ralph A. Whiteman, points to a flagrant case of misplaced sympathy. In a parallel column is re-printed a beautiful story of sentiment in which mother love battles with a patriotic fervor and emerges unstained to win the plaudits of men of arms.

Governor Pinchot started in to prune legislative appropriations by slashing his own salary to $10,000 per year, the same former governors received. He could have accepted $18,000.

He made a mistake. If he is half the Governor he promised he would be, he was worth all of $18,000 to this state.

But Mr. Pinchot is a millionaire. He does not need any additional money. Another governor may not be so fortunate. It is good to see that he left the amount for education and. How could he do otherwise? The mandates of the Edmonds law put a lot of rural districts in the hole and it is up to the state to help them out.

The amount will also go far toward maintaining the present high standard of education in the state. The loss of Dr. Fingean may be in part compensated by a judicious use of this cash. Nobody doubts Dr. Becht's ability.

The Governor's surrender to political pressure in his treatment of Dr. Fingean is another matter.

While his mother sat at the head of the table weeping, with her face buried in her hands, thirty Minneapolis men who bear lasting scars of their service for the allies in the world war Friday night silently drank a toast to a man who went down on a German U-boat in 1918. He was the son of Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, in whose honor, as "the most distinguished delegate" to the convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War a dinner was given.

"I have two things to ask of

"First, that you will never believe any false stories you may hear about me, stories that I was a German spy, that I was untrue to this, my country, and to you. The second promise I ask of you is that, when I am dead—and it won't be many more years now—you will see to it that I am buried in America, in my country. And, boys, maybe I could have, in a way, the burial of a soldier. Not any fuss. Have them play 'taps' over my grave, as I have sung it to you. Will you promise?"

Every one of the thirty veterans silently stood up as she finished, raised his right hand and gave his solemn pledge.

"I had a son in the German navy. He was mistaken, but he did what he believed was right. I will not apologize for him. I never have. Remember, boys, I was his mother, the same as I was the mother of four sons serving with my country's forces," said Madame Schumann-Heink.

"And now," Colonel George E. Leach, mayor of Minneapolis, said, "I propose a toast to that man who went down on the German U-boat in 1918."

The thirty men arose and raised their glasses. Madame Schumann-Heink sank into her chair and covered her face with her hands. Her sobs could be heard by all.

And then those thirty men paid her perhaps the finest tribute she had ever received. Silently, with bowed heads, they stood and waited until she had left the room.

provided for the Division of Geological Survey, which has become a part of the Department of Forests and Waters.

The Treasury appropriations of $519,200 was reduced to $391,000. The budget gave this department only $315,000, a sum equivalent to the $335,000 appropriated in 1921 had the department worked the same number of hours that others worked. The department, however, had a deficiency of $86,527, so that its 1921 appropriation exceeded $420,000. The Governor said that, assuming the department will work the same hours as other departments, it has been better taken care of than others.

In beginning his use of the veto ax in reducing items, the Governor said he first cut his own appropriation for salary from the $18,000 allowed by law to $10,000 a year, thus effecting a saving of $18,000.

Explanation of the Cuts.
The Governor and Clyde L. King, Secretary of State and budget officer, who put in many hours in working out the details of the eliminations explained the cuts made in the various departments just before announcing the totals. There is a reduction in the item of $250,000 for publishing constitutional amendments to $175,000. This was made because several of the proposed amendment resolutions failed and will not have to be advertised.

One of the items of saving was effected in the Adjutant General's Department, the appropriation of which was reduced from $1,762,800 to $1,490,800. An appropriation of $200,000 for armory buildings was eliminated and an item of $50,000 for stables cut out.

More than $400,000 for improvements in Capitol Park was also taken out of the bill. Of this sum $200,000 was cut from the $1,250,000 allowed

they are physical wrecks, slowly dying and suffering tortures daily while awaiting the end of their hopeless existence.

We have in mind the case of a splendid Pennsylvania boy in the central part of the State who died yesterday after four years of suffering, a victim of shell-shock and gas poisoning. He served with such distinction on European battlefields that he was awarded a Congressional medal of honor, but his service was attended by such physical sacrifices that he has been in daily and hourly agony ever since the close of the war.

Thousands of such cases are known all over the country. Many of the brave boys who served "over there" and who came back have suffered and are suffering much more than the other thousands who were instantly killed; but we have heard less of them, and they have been given less consideration than the slackers who denied their country when it needed them, and who, in the cases of the comparatively few who were jailed, have been better treated and have commanded more sympathy than the brave fellows who have for years been enduring untold tortures as a result of their heroic sacrifices.—Philadelphia Record.

for the completion of the South Office Building. The $208,000 appropriation items for the parking and landscaping of the undeveloped land in the annexed area to Capitol Park was vetoed entirely. The Governor said he had expected to get the funds for this work but found it impossible.

The Highway Department received the smallest appropriation in its history, but $34,000 being allowed, $24,000 being for the secretary's salary and $10,000 for highway bridges. The item of $980,000 for administrative costs was entirely vetoed. The Governor explained that the department will be in no way crippled by the reduction, because $11,000,000 is available from appropriations of 1917 to 1921, which have not been lapsed. This will provide for salaries and all overhead.

School Appropriation Untouched.

Including the $38,803,246 for reimbursing the school districts, the Department of Public Instruction received $46,401,851.33. No item in the department's appropriations was touched. Among these items is $918,594 for salaries and professional boards, $3,500,000 for state normal schools, $2,797,256 for vocational schools, $169,750 for the state library, now a part of this department; $89,600 for the expenses of the State Board of Censors and $80,000 for the School Retirement Board.

The appropriation of $1,520,300 for the Department of Forests and Waters, the former Department of Forestry, that the Governor headed for several years, was approved without cutting, the largest part of this total $1,299,000, being for administration.

Valuable Gum Mines.

Probably the only gum mines in the world are in New Zealand, where there is a whole district in which fossilized gum from trees that died centuries ago is found a few feet below the surface. The substance is valuable, for it makes the best kind of transparent varnish, and many fortunes have been made by men who have worked it.

New Device for Tempering Steel.

The steel for tools and bits must be tempered with great accuracy and this is done automatically. The steel is held in the furnace by a magnet against the tension of a spring, and when the required temperature is reached, the steel loses its magnetism and is withdrawn by the spring.

His Appetite Attended To.

Billy was visiting a neighbor, and she asked him to stay for dinner. While they were eating they heard his mother calling him to come home to dinner. Running to the window, he said, "Mother, the neighbors are attending to my appetite."

To Be Happy at Work.

If you are the sort of woman who cannot work well except under pleasant conditions, it is economy to buy the things that mean this to you. It may only be pretty curtains, light woodwork or a certain kind of wallpaper, but it means everything to certain types of women and results in much more being accomplished.

His New Dignity.

Betty and Dick had a new nephew, and Betty seemed to feel the responsibility. One day when Dick had been unusually mischievous, she said "Diddle, have you forgot you just be

A LIFE SENTENCE OR TICKET TO HAPPINESS

By FLORENCE DAVIES
"How much are silver ten sets?" a chap in the office asked me the other day.

"Anything you want to pay for them," I replied, "What's up? Are you buying wedding presents?"

"Not exactly that," he replied with a lazy sort of drawl, "but you see it was just twenty-five years ago today that I got my life sentence."

Of course he didn't mean it. It was just the sort of banter that half the married men think is smart. If he had meant it, you'd better believe he wouldn't have been looking for silver tea sets to take the gold old girl who had been his kindly pallor all these years.

And yet back of the banter about the married man's lack of freedom there is often a little hint of rebellion. They wouldn't be free if they could, but still the chains chafe.

It was the same feeling, doubtless, which made a man refer to his wife, the other day, as "a ball and chain," and so give her grounds for divorce. If the man was right, one wonders why it was not he who was granted the divorce instead of the wife.

For surely a wife ought to be anything but a ball and chain. She should give a man wings, not shackles; she should furnish him with inspiration, and courage, with such sympathy and confidence that he would find himself possessed of a new motive power, a new sense of assurance and a new freedom because of his new confidence.

"But" you ask, "does not a man in a way take on shackles with the responsibility of marriage? Does

he not indeed assume a 'greater responsibility'?"

By ALL means he does. But that is just where we women fail to understand. It is not the solid iron bars of this new responsibility against which a man rebels. Those he assumes because he wants to. The barriers which fret him are made of twigs, the little twigs of petty encroachments upon his time and freedom of personal action.

The nagging little questions and limitations, the interference with this personal tastes and personal freedom is what he abhors.

"Where have you been?" "Where are you going?" "It's a wonder you wouldn't take me, why should you want to go off with the boys when you never get a chance to take a trip with me?" and a thousand other little insistent, nagging queries and demands which spell ball and chain.

Nothing in this world is so dear as personal freedom, just that kind of individual liberty which lets human beings go to bed when he pleases, get up when he pleases and eat what he desires.

Men have fought and bled and died for a freedom which only touched their pocket books. They would fight and die again for a freedom which touched their personal lives if the jailor were a government and not an overly anxious or overly fussy wife.

The sense of personal identity is the dearest thing we have. If the woman who just received the silver tea set had realized that 25 years ago, I wonder if her husband would not have said "I got my ticket to happiness 25 years ago today," instead of referring, even jokingly to his marriage as a life sentence.

The Test of Acquaintance.

"It isn't length of acquaintance that counts with people—it's sudden tests—and being able to speak the same language—occasionally, even. Some people you can go on talking to all your life and never know them at all, because they don't say a single thing that seems true to you, and they look at you as though you were mad when you speak your real thoughts about anything." — From "The Incoming Tide" by Janet Mait and.

Turn Again

Dick Whittington and his cat are known to every British child. How they were leaving London and heard low bells ring "turn again Whittington," and how he did return to fame and fortune. Yet Italy, Brittany, Norway and Russia have similar tales with a differently named hero. Did they borrow them from us? The same story appeared in a book written by a Persian about 60 years before our Dick Whittington was born.

Rotten Time Promised.

A Japanese invitation to dinner frequently runs as follows: "I beg your pardon for thus insulting you in begging your company at my house to dinner. The house is very small and very dirty. Our habits are rude, and you may not get anything fit to eat, and yet I hope that you will condescend to be present with us at 6 o'clock." Curwensville's Own Column

Mrs. Richards and Dorndetta, who have been conducting a pool room one door east of the gas factory for several years, have sold out their equipment to Jim Richards, who will possess the tables to the basement of the Park hotel. Henry Reitsenrath, who disposed of his building on the north side of the street to Joe Fullerton, will occupy the room made vacant by Richards and Dorndetta as a pool and billiard room, taking possession today.

Paul Conklin and wife, former residents, now living at St. Petersburg, Fla., are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dillman Wall, east George street. Mrs. Conklin being a sister of Mrs. Wall and a daughter of the late John D. Wright.

Misses Lois and Margaret Hykes of Pittsburgh, arrived in Curwensville the latter part of last week to spend some time with their grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCloskey, Ridge avenue.

Mrs. James Cadman has removed her household goods to Williamsport in which city she expects to make her home with her son, John who has a lucrative position in that city, which was principally built from lumber cut and run down the river from Clearfield county.

Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Reed and daughter Berline and Mrs. Ruth Horsemann and daughter left Saturday morning by auto for a trip over into Jefferson county for a two day visit with several sons who are living there.

Edward Smith, of Philadelphia, a former State Road Inspector in this section several years ago, was a Curwensville visitor for several days last and this week.

Percy Holton and son, James, left on Sunday for a trip to Cleveland, Ohio. On their return they will each bring home a new car.

Edward Balute, a son of Jack Balute South Side, was married at Boardman on Saturday, Miss Mary Bakor-an of that place, being the bride.

Rev. B. H. Conley and family have returned home from a two week's vacation tour.

Rev. John Cameron, who has been the successful pastor of the Baptist church in this place for the past two or three years, has resigned his pastorate and will remove from Curwensville. The people of Curwensville are generally sorry to know that he will not remain among them; he is an able man and a worker and has done more to hold the Baptist people together and put the church on a solid footing than any other minister of that charge that has been here for many years.

Misses Margaret Jane Overly and Lola Antes, both of Clearfield, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Collins over Saturday.

After being a week in Curwensville the Spencer Shows has departed for new fields. It is the general opinion that this aggregation was not much of a benefit to the town in more ways than one. The financial share of the Rescue, Hose and Ladder company amounted to about $300. Question? What is the difference, so far as gambling is concerned, between operating a candy board, a paddle wheel, nickel in the slot machine, throwing the dice for chance, a shooting match for targets, etc., than having a board with numbers which you place your dime with the expectation of getting a doll later, a little fruit and a number of other devices of a like sort. Can our District Attorney explain clearly where in lies the distinction?

The funeral of James Albert, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wise, was held yesterday afternoon at the farm home out on Chestnut Ridge. The body was interred in the Oak Hill cemetery.

Yesterday afternoon Curwensville Lodge No. 486 Knights of Pythias, held its annual Memorial services over the brothers who had passed on to join the Great Supreme Chancellor above. The weather proved propitious for the occasion, and more than a half hundred Sir Knights wended their way to the cemetery and formed a hollow square about the mound of Rush M. Decker, the last death occurring within the Lodge Circle. Members of the order then read the exercises as prescribed by the Supreme Mandate. A male choir composed of Messrs. Hile, Frank, Dougherty, Way, Bloom, Kirk, Haines and Hips, with Miss Alva Kirk presiding at the organ rendered three appropriate selections. The persons who had been devoted to make addresses were unable to be present, therefore, Rev. J. E. Stein of Harrisburg, who happened to be in town, substituted, choosing for his ten minute talk two points "What is Life and What is Death." When he finished the lodge men completed their exercises. Curwensville lodge has lost by death, since its organization, 38 members as follows: several of whom lie buried in the far west:

Chester Deering and wife came in from Endicott, N. Y. on Saturday for a weeks stay with his father, Mr. S. C. Deering over on Anderson street. The company by whom he is employed are erecting a million dollar tannery.

Ned. Bloom and wife drove to Curwensville Saturday from New Bethlehem, Pa., and spent some time with relatives. They returned home Sunday afternoon, taking with them their daughter, Miss Helen, who has been spending several months with her grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Bloom, South Pine street.

Friendly Philosophy. Nature punishes neglect and plays no favorites. The neglected field becomes an unsightly mass of tangled briars and rank weeds; the undrained swamp a stagnant receptacle for noxious growths; the human brain an inefficient generator of faulty and misleading ideas unless directed into channels of reason and truth. No loss is indeed costly.—J. E. F.

A Wonderful Opportunity To Get A Real SUMMER HOME At An Exceptionally Low Price

I offer for sale the E. E. Murray place at Shawville. There are six acres of well drained ground. The house is a frame house in excellent condition, with bath, toilets, hot water heat, water piped into house from new flowing spring. Located three miles from the Woodland-Shawville concrete road. Wonderful view from house, overlooking the beautiful Susquehanna River and mountains.

A. B. LANSBERRY
Woodland, Pa.

A Jewett car said to have been driven by Pike Whitton, of Phillipsburg, missed the road at the curve turning into Hawk Run late Saturday night, the car overturning. The occupants of the car were more or less injured but the injuries were only slight as the car was immediately driven to Phillipsburg. Outside of a broken windshield, the car was only slightly damaged. The said curve is one of the worst on the new stretch of highway from Phillipsburg to Allport and danger signs or lights of some sort should be placed there. At least a half dozen cars have met the same fate at this particular curve. It is now made more dangerous since the building of a store on the Hawk Run side of the curve, as cars coming from the latter place are not visible until they reach the state road.

Miss Gertrude McConville, of Phillipsburg, and Mr. Ernest Moore, of Clearfield, were united in wedlock on Wednesday morning, the nuptials taking place at St. Francis Catholic church, Clearfield. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray, of Clearfield, were the attendants.

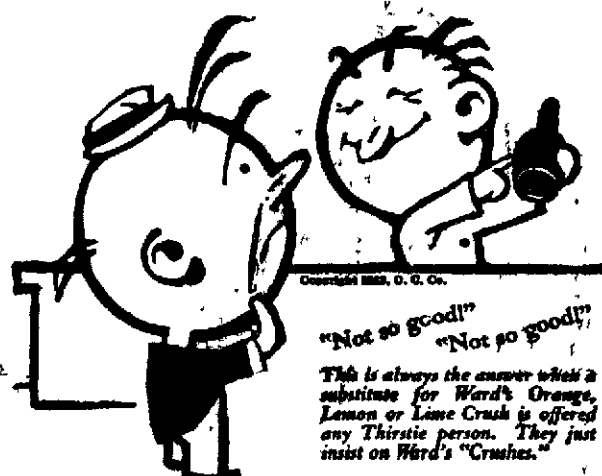

Harry Kephart, of Morgan Run, was very seriously injured Saturday morning at the clay mines at that place when part of the roof fell on him. Both thighs were fractured and he also received a compound fracture of the right leg below the knee.

George Voyzey, of New Liberty and Miss Catherine Nearhood, of Warriors Mark, were united in wedlock on June 20th, at the Methodist parsonage at Tyrone. Both young people are popular hereabouts and their numerous friends extend heartiest well wishes.

Sense of Humor.
A sense of humor is a very fine thing. It lifts one above the rough places as it were, with a soft and a bound, and lands one in a position of the further bank of the swollen and threatening stream. You keep young if you possess it; the twinkle in your eye is a sign that old age is far from you yet, whatever your years may be. All the same, a sense of humor is a gift which must be displayed with discretion. The trouble is that, with most of us, it stops working when we need it most—that is, when things go wrong with our own affairs. The man who can smile when this happens is a hero.—Philadelphia N.

Her Lover's Mean Trick.
A new boy came to our school and I soon let him know that I was his for the asking. But he never asked. One day our teacher was late in coming because of a heavy snowfall. The school was in an uproar, everybody trying to think up something more rag than his neighbor. Suddenly something fell in my lap. Sure enough it was from a box. It looked like a piece of crushed chocolate candy. I gave him an adorable smile and started to eat the supposed candy. He had extracted the filling and placed chalk colored chalk in it instead.—Chicago Journal

INSIST if you must

Offering you a substitute for an original Ward's "Crush" is an insult to your taste. Why accept a minnow-substitute when Ward's "Crush" is such a Whale of a good drink? Ward's Crushes owe their distinctive and delightful flavors to the natural fruit oils of oranges, lemons and limes. To these have been added pure cane sugar, citrus fruit juices, U. S. certified food color, fruit acid and carbonated water.

Who is CAP'N GRAPEJACK?

Cap'n Grape Jack is a good little kid pirate who has a treasure he wants to share with you. His treasure comes in bottles—and you are going to like it immensely. It is known as Good Grape—a new, sparkling grape drink unlike any beverage you have ever before heard of or tasted.

Good-Grape brings you the real, rich flavor of sugary grapes—and there's a good reason why, for its wonderful flavor is derived by an entirely new process from the fruit itself. Good-Grape is a carbonated grape drink—full of life, and snap, and “pep.”

It's delicious from the moment it touches your lips. It's satisfying all the way down. Just try it for yourself. Take advantage of Cap'n Grapejack's offer. Clip the coupon and use it NOW. You'll thank the Cap'n once you've tried his drink—he'll be among your foremost friends this summer!

Tom Sims SAYS--

Sanitary potters of New Jersey, after being on strike eight months, are back pottering around. Calvin Coolidge says they are more at home in the pot than they are in the White House. Welsh coal miners and a machine in the U. S. are making a noise like a Welsh rabbit. Since a backlayer's pay equals about 100 eggs, the hens ought to start laying bricks. A bathing suit makes a nice little rock for eating watermelon. Bryan is as busy as a kitten in a room with nine children. Considering who they are, we think the human race does much better than could be expected. Lion cub bit movie star Peggy Davis on the nose. What she gets for being good enough to eat. Spokane man who went swimming after eating a big picnic lunch was revived in 45 minutes. Safety Last, a film by Harold Lloyd, has been stolen by some crook who follows the title. Gibbons' reach is 74 inches, while Dempsey's is 73, so Gibbons can beat selling fish pies.

Temperament.
On the big curve coming into the Irish wayside station, the train stopped longer than usual one morning, and the guard, descending from his van, walked up to the driver. "What are you stopping for?" he inquired. "Sure, and can't you see the signal is again red?" retorted the driver. The guard snorted contemptuously. "It's mighty particular you're getting all of a sudden," he said. (London).

Friendship.
If ever a man was to be a real anything, the sense of privilege will be the sign. A man who is to whom doctoring is not a privilege is no real physician. A man who is to whom teaching is not a privilege is no real teacher. A friend is to whom friendship is not a privilege is no real friend. -- Harry Emerson Buckle.

Male Water Sheep.
A San Francisco hardware firm received a request from the Orient for quotations on "male water sheep." No one in the office could understand what article was meant and the letter was posted on the bulletin board for all to see, with the three words underlined. Finally some outsider scribbled the suggestion: "Maybe he means hydraulic rams," and this interpretation turned out to be correct.

Modern Greeks.
The present-day Greeks are supposed to be the descendants of the men who won Marathon and Salamis. Of course the breed of modern Greeks (as is true about every other people) is somewhat mixed, but there is much in the Greeks of today to remind us of the men who built the Parthenon.

Boas the Sahara Reo.
Some day the world will be the Sahara all the good it has. Among the desert sands near B. last year, the French had over 800,000 date palms. There is a chance for immense development of the date industry all along the northern edge of the desert south of Morocco, Algeria and Tunis. Frank R. Cans, a conservative and authoritative writer, says that in time probably a tenth of the Sahara will be reclaimed for human use.

WE KEEP TRUCKS GOING EVERY HOUR

It is the purpose of this shop to keep trucks going every day and every hour of that day. We are doing it, too. Ask any truck owner who is getting his truck serviced here and he will tell you that he is getting the performance out of his truck that he hoped to when he bought it.
